UM NATIVE AMERICAN STUDENTS TO VISIT RESERVATION HIGH SCHOOLS, COMMUNITY COLLEGES

MISSOULA --

Five Native American students from The University of Montana will spend their spring break visiting three Montana reservations to meet with high school and community college students interested in attending UM in the future.

The March 22-26 tour of the Rocky Boy, Fort Belknap and Fort Peck reservations is intended to strengthen ties between the University and the reservations and to ease students' transition from high schools and community colleges to UM, said prospective student counselor Kyla Glass, who will accompany the students.

The visits, co-sponsored by UM New Student Services and the American Indian Science & Engineering Society, will be led by UM students Lena Belcourt and Natalie Flores of Rocky Boy, Jeff Adams of Wolf Point, Kirt Dahl of Fairview and Lewis Yellowrobe of Great Falls.

On Monday, March 22, the students will start their day with a visit to Brockton High School from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., followed by two stops in Poplar: Poplar High School from 11:20 a.m. to 1:45 p.m. and Fort Peck Community College from 2 to 4 p.m.

On Tuesday, the students will visit Wolf Point High School from 8:15 to 10:10 a.m. Wednesday's stops are Hays-Lodge Pole High School from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and Harlem High School from 1 to 3 p.m.
